

Michigan Elder and Family Law firm now providing services to Veterans.

BRIGHTON, MI—The Nawrocki Center for Elder & Family Law was recently accredited by the Department of Veterans Affairs to provide legal services to veterans and their families. The firm is authorized to prepare, present and prosecute claims for veterans benefits before the Department of Veterans Affairs.

“We are pleased to be able to help veterans, their spouses and families receive the benefits they may be entitled to,” says Nancy Nawrocki, founder and principal of the Nawrocki Center for Elder & Family Law. “Through their service to our country, veterans have earned all the assistance we can give them.”

The firm will now be able to help veterans plan for qualification, prepare and submit the required applications and supporting materials, and determine whether they may be eligible for such benefits as disability compensation, dependency and indemnity compensation, a pension, and more. The firm is also certified to present appeals on behalf of veterans before the Department of Veterans Affairs.

The Nawrocki Center for Elder & Family Law provides a full range of legal services to families, with a particular focus on elder law. Nawrocki is a member of the National Academy of Elder Law Attorneys and was named to the Michigan Women’s Roll of Honor in 2005. A 1986 graduate of Wayne State University Law School, she has served on the Women’s Resource Center of Howell, Michigan, and has served as co-chair of the Advisory Board of the Livingston County Hospice in Howell.
